other stiff and sore. Your very bones ache.

Oh, we all know the symptoms of the grip. A steady draught through an open door, a pair of wet feet left undried too long, or a short walk to the cutting air without an overcoat, and the mischief is done. A good deal of caucusing was going on all day yesterday among the members of Company B, of the Blues Battalion and while the object of the caucusing was kept pretty quiet, yet outsiders became well aware of the fact that some surprise was in the wind. But when it became known last evening that Captain George Ainsile had been once more elected captain of the company, the mystery was explained.

In Company A, no such surprise was in and what will accomplish the star swer: Only a pure stimulant to sir, stimulate and rouse the powers and throw the intruding grip out of the system. The meeting of Company B was called at the armory, on Ninth and Cary streets for 6 o'clock last evening and a few minutes later Colonel J. Bell Bigger called the meeting to order. Under the provisions of the act of Assembly, passed during the session 1833-94, which amended the charter of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, so as to authorize the forfantry Blues, so as to authorize the for-mation of a Blues Battalion, elections of officers in either company have to be presided over by the president of the Blues Association. HAMBURG, Feb. 2.—Ever since the decision of a majority of the men who took part in the great strike here of dock laborers and other employes in the shipping trade to return to work, there has been much discontent among the men and those who watched the situation ciesely could see that trouble was brewing. The defeat of the strikers was due mainly to here of funds and these fee. ing. The defeat of the strikers was due mainly to lack of funds, and they felt very bitter that they were compelled to return to work without having in the least benefited their condition.

To-night the bad feeling among the men culminated in a fight between a large number of the men, who had been on a strike and the police who for on a strike and the police, who, for several days past had been anticipating trouble. Before the disturbance was quelled two men were killed and nineteen seriously wounded. Among the latter are five policemen.

THE ORIGIN.

It is not known exactly how the fight-ing started, but one report has it that it originated in a dispute between some it originated in a dispute between some men who were arguing as to the cor-rectness of the decision to return to work and who finally came to blows. When the police attempted to intervene the men abandened their own quarrel and combined to thrush the policemen. the fighting soon assuming wide proportions. combined to thrash the policemen, the fighting soon assuming wide proportions. Another story is that the police were the aggressors. However, this may be the fighting became very serious, revolvers and sabres being freely used.

The police were rapidly getting the worst of the contest, they being greatly outnumbered by the raging mob of risters where numbers were quickly swelled.

ers, whose numbers were quickly swelled, not only by genuine workingmen but by the hordes of victous idlers about the harbor, who were only too anxious under the first attempted to get the mob to dis-perse by the use of mild means, but these proving unavailing, sabres were drawn and orders given to charge the mob. The rioters, some of whom were armed with revolvers, while others had bindgeons and stones as weapons, held their ground tenaciously and made a des-perate resistance, which the police were mable to overcome.
Eventually reinforcements were hurrist to the scene in response to the urgent call of the officer in command of the po-lice, and finally the rioters were dis-lice, and finally the rioters were dispersed with great difficulty.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS

Later crowds of workingmon gathered in Sanct Pauli, Withemsburg and Altona, all of which places are practically paris of Hamburg, and threatened vengeanes on the police. The latter, feating that there would be another outbreak went in strong force to the places named and compelled obedience to their orders that the streat he cleaved. They also cleared the streets in the region of the harbor. It is generally believed that if the riot-It is generally believed that it the rioters had been better armed the police would not have been able to handle them and it would have been necessary to call upon the military for assistance.

Most of the injured were removed to the hospitals. Ninety-one of the rioters were arrested.

The quarters of the town occupied by workingmen were simmering with angry feeling, and the men were found in their denunciations of the police. Further disturbances during the night were anticipated and to guard against further outbreaks the police parcels were doubled. A heavy rain is falling and this tended to keep indoors many of the discontented workingmen who might otherwise have taken matter. taken part in the ricaing.
